

PURRS & SCRATCHES

by

PURRS AND SCRATCHES
1967

Foreword

The purpose of a yearbook is to provide a historical record of events that take place during a school year and to create a mirror which accurately reflects student life and activities for the present and future enjoyment of those who were a part of those events. With this thought in mind, the 1967 Purrs and Scratches is presented to the student body and faculty of Franklin High School.

It is our hope, that you will look upon this book in future years with a greater understanding of the part the events portrayed here played in your success and happiness.

SCIENCE HISTORY MADE HERE

MIDDLETOWN, OHIO

The first live television picture successfully bounced off an orbiting satellite across our great nation was transmitted and received by two 60-foot antennas made in Middletown by Aeronca. The satellite was Echo I. This remarkable feat is another example of the advanced state of our nation's accomplishments and Aeronca's part in making those "dreams of yesterday" become "happenings of today."
